We have lost a beloved one of our members who was just unfolding his beauties like a rose bud in May.

The plant has been plucked and translated to a clime more congenial to his angelic nature.

The fair form lies in the cold vault of the grave, but his spirit rests in heaven.

From adverse blast and withering storms
His favoured soul be born
And with yon angelic forms
He lives to die no more.

Jan. 25th 1847

In all the various relations of life he acted well his part and Whether we regard him as the husband, parent, master or friend,
Shall find him faithfully discharging his duty.
His life was an active commentary upon the virtues of industry and morality and his death that of a Christian, peaceful and full of the hope of a glorious immortality.

The station manager had a note on the letterhead of the "Davis Gin Co." that contained the following data: "4 graves, A.C. Northcross (Jim's Uncle), J.M. Northcross, and two stillborn children."

Footstone: A.C.N.

Fragment: Jan. 19, 1847

Died

Sept. 28, 1882

The John Meglamre Northcross Bible records are presented on pp. 123-125 of Mid-South Bible Records, published 1968, by Fort Assumption Chapter, DAR. One of the many records in that Bible is: "Alexander Campbell Northcross born Jan. 19th 1847."
